

THOSE WHOM THE CARPATHIA SAVED

Names of the Titanic Survivors Who Have Been Brought to This Port.

THERE ARE 705 OF THEM

Of Whom 202 Are First Cabin, 115 Second, 178 Steerage and 210 Officers and Crew.

The list of survivors of the Titanic, prepared on board the Carpathia, contains 705 names, of which only 202 were first cabin passengers and 115 in the second cabin. The third class, or steerage, passengers numbered 178, while the officers and members of the crew rescued were 210. One member of the crew was picked up dead.

Before the Carpathia docked the revised list of the rescued made public by the White Star Line based upon the wireless reports, contained the names of 210 first cabin and 135 second cabin passengers saved, but these numbers were too large because of errors in transmission of the names, and the placing of certain of the rescued out of their proper class.
